Homework is given weekly to practice spelling, mathematical concepts, reading, and oral fluency. The term will focus on our science and history units:

Practical Arts

Learning about the moon is visible during the day.

The topic for this term is Light and Day. Students will be

Science

Understanding our environment, and forming our own opinions.

The topic for this term is first contact. Students will be

History

Understanding our family names.

The topic for this term is early Native Americans.

Mathematics

Learning to multiply numbers up to 10 x 10.

Learning to multiply numbers up to 10 x 10.

Reading will be a focus on comprehension skills.

Home Reading - Students need to read daily at home.

Parental involvement is key to successful learning.

English

Personal development is key this term. Readings include and strengthening the craft of writing.

Students will be expected to read 30-40 books during the term. This is our "feed" time for brain development.

Students are expected to learn their spelling words each week using the "look, cover, write, read, check" method.

Spelling words are expected to learn their spelling words each week.

Practicing proper sentence structure is included.

Students will be given a variety of spelling books to choose from to read and develop their writing skills.

The main types of writing texts for this term will be fiction and descriptive writing.

The topics for this term will be:

Problem solving, Venn diagrams, etc.

Term will be:-